LOCAL REPUBLICANS NAME DELEGATES

Resolutions Adopted Condemn Democratic Administration—Capt. Short Is Endorsed For State Senator In This District.

Pursuant to the call of the State Committee, the Republicans of Madison county met in the hour house in Richmond Saturday afternoon to nominate delegates to the plenum convention which will be held in Lexington, Wednesday, the 14th.

The convention was called to order by Secretary A. R. Burnam, Jr., who stated the purpose of the convention. Col. Bruce J. Clay was unanimously elected chairman of the convention, and E. B. Smith secretary.

The chairman appointed the following Committee on Resolutions: Messrs. A. R. Burnam, Jr., Capt. Short, W. K. Price, D. F. Wallace, and Buell Ballew. After consultation together, the committee reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Be it resolved by the Madison County Republican Convention in mass convention assembled:

1. We do hereby reaffirm our allegiance and belief in the time honored principles of the Republican party, as expressed in its past platforms and evidenced by successful achievements during Republican administration.

2. We do hereby condemn the Democratic state administration for corruption, inefficiency, incompetency, and extravagance.

3. We do hereby condemn the pro-poor plan which disposes of several tracts of land in the southern section of the county.

THE WEATHER
Cloudy weather with showers Tuesday and in west portion tonight.

TUNING UP FOR THE REAL FLIGHT

(By Associated Press)

Trepassey, New Newfoundland, May 12.—The American navy's hydroplanes, in preparation for their flight across the Atlantic, are being prepared today to carry six men instead of five and with extra propellers. Commander Towers announced in a statement detailing the precautionary measures to insure as far as possible a non-stop cruise to the Azores. Word from St. John indicated the British air men will not start today owing to adverse weather conditions.

WILL CASE IN CIRCUIT COURT

Circuit court has been engaged all day with the contest over probating of the will of the late George Poff, who killed himself in the lower end of the country about a year ago. The suit will be brought by his son, Wm. Poff, and other heirs. Acting for them are Attorneys A. R. Burnam, Jr., and John Noland, while Attorneys G. Murray Smith and O. P. Jackson represent the proponents of the will.

3rd. We condemn the Democratic state administration for corruption, inefficiency, incompetency, and extravagance.

Said party has been an utter lack of interest in administering the affairs of the state government, and burdened the people with different forms of taxation beyond their capacity to endure, and at the same time, plunging the state deeper in debt each year.

4th. We endorse the candidacy of Hon. Edwin P. Morrow for Governor. Hon. John J. Craig for auditor, the Hon. James A. Wallace for treasurer, and the Hon. W. C. Hanna, for commissioner of agriculture.

We do hereby nominate to a member of the Senate to be elected in the coming November election in this the 29th Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Madison, Estill, Owsley, Jackson and Rockcastle, and whereas, one countryman, T. Short, is a candidate for said nomination, and no other republican being a candidate in Madison county for said nomination, we the Republicans in convention assembled, do hereby endorse his candidacy, and recommend him to the people for their consideration. Our candidate firmly believing that if these men are nominated, they will lead the party to victory in November.

5th. We name as delegates to the district and state convention to be held in Lexington, May 14th, 1919, the persons whose names are hereto attached, each delegate to be entitled to one-half vote.

It is further resolved that all good Republicans who desire to attend the State Convention shall be issued credentials by the County Chairman and that they shall have the right to vote with the delegation on all questions that may come before it.

HENRY FORD'S MILLION DOLLAR LIBEL SUIT

(By Associated Press)
Mount Clemens, Mich., May 10—
Henry Ford's $1,000,000 libel suit against the Tribune company of Chicago, publishers of the Chicago Daily Tribune, will go to trial here Monday before Judge James G. Tucker in the circuit court of Macomb county on charge of venue from Wayne county (Detroit).

In the pleas counsel for Mr. Ford make repeated reference to the Tribune's trademark, "The World's Greatest Newspaper," while the defendant's plea speaks of Mr. Ford as the world's greatest manufacturer of automobiles, and estimates his fortune in 1916 as at least $125,000.

"In the year of 1915 alone the earnings of the Ford Motor Company amounted to more than $50,000,000, or in excess of 2,500 percent of its outstanding capital stock," says the Tribune plea. Reference to the plaintiff's wealth and position in the industrial world is made to show that his con-spicuity and power made him a proper subject of newspaper comment.

The meat of the alleged libelous article was the headline of an editorial published by the Tribune June 23, 1916 as follows: "Ford Is An Anarchist."

The editorial was based on a special dispatch from Detroit, June 21, 1916, and published June 22 in the Tribune.

The Tribune turned the money, $887.04 received for his advertisement, over to the Navy League to be used for patriotic service.

Mr. Ford first filed suit in the federal court at Chicago, on Sept. 7, 1916 but this was withdrawn and the suit instituted in the circuit court of Wayne county. To give the state court jurisdiction Sam Max and Henry Solomon, wholesale newspaper distributors doing business at Detroit as the Solomon News Co., also were made defendants, they having distributed the Tribune in Michigan. Their status in the case is said to be purely technical.

The Tribune was granted a change of venue from Wayne county on allegations that owing to Mr. Ford's prominence there the defendants could not obtain a fair trial. Mount Clemens, is about seventeen miles from Detroit.

McCombs Road Oil

"From the time of the Roman Caesars it has been recognized that prosperity follows good roads."

THE high cost of material and the shortage of labor put a premium upon the preservation of present equipment; and for the preservation of good roads a gallon of oil is worth a bushel of labor.

Imperative demands of the war period have prevented adequate road maintenance, improvement and extension. The immense transportation problem of reconstruction requires that the arteries of traffic be kept in good condition.

Roads well oiled last indefinitely. A well-oiled road is impervious to the destructive forces of nature and offers adequate resistance to the wear and tear of heavy traffic.

Tribune to the effect that Ford employees who enlisted to serve against Mexico would lose their positions that their salaries would not be paid by the Ford company, nor provision made by the company for the wives and families.

In course of its defense as shown in its plea the Tribune invited attention to the fact that although this news dispatch was published widely in many other newspapers at the time the Tribune published it, no denial came from Mr. Ford in the interim before the publication of the Tribune editorial on June 23rd. On the 23rd, however, Ford denied the story and the Tribune published that denial.

At the time of the alleged libel, and for a considerable period before, the relations of the United States with Mexico was strained. Foreigners in Mexico has been murdered, their properties confiscated or destroyed; Villa, the bandit had raided the American town Columbus, N. M., and all Europe was afire with war. The Tribune was among the leaders in urging universal military training and preparedness, while Mr. Ford was at that time frankly a pacifist. Mr. Ford published whole-page advertisements in newspapers setting forth his views one of them in the Tribune. The Tribune turned the money, $887.04 received for his advertisement, over to the Navy League to be used for patriotic service.

Mr. Ford first filed suit in the federal court at Chicago, on Sept. 7, 1916 but this was withdrawn and the suit instituted in the circuit court of Wayne county. To give the state court jurisdiction Sam Max and Henry Solomon, wholesale newspaper distributors doing business at Detroit as the Solomon News Co., also were made defendants, they having distributed the Tribune in Michigan. Their status in the case is said to be purely technical.

The Tribune was granted a change of venue from Wayne county on allegations that owing to Mr. Ford's prominence there the defendants could not obtain a fair trial. Mount Clemens, is about seventeen miles from Detroit.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes
—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

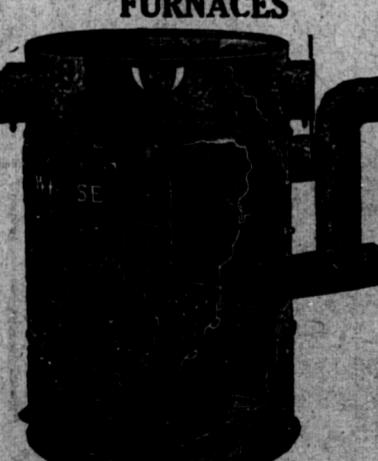

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling all out of sorts, inactive jewels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing result.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

TELLS HOW CALICO DIED A HERO IN FRANCE

His many friends here will be interested in the following story of the hero's death that was the fact of Jesse Calico, of Paint Lick, as recently published in the Lancaster Record. His father, James A. Calico, of Paint Lick, received these letters, which tell the story of such deep interest to his loved ones at home:

Jan. 1st, 1918

Dear Mr. Calico:—
Your son was in the platoon which brought him directly under my observation while we were training; also I was in the same tank with him when he lost his life. I will therefore undertake to give you the particulars which you so naturally desire.

I am sure you would have received several letters from his comrades telling you of all this long before now, if it were not forbidden under censorship.

Corporal Calico was one of the original platoon members of the Battalion and his reliability soon made him one of our best soldiers. His officers knew that he was always dependable and the hard work that he put upon his most difficult tasks for our tank crew.

He was fortunate in having for his tank commander, Lt. H. E. Potter, an officer who could thoroughly appreciate him; and the men who made up his crew were much above the average. They all admired your son.

He was the gunner on the tank pounder which is the largest gun on the tank. He went into action in this capacity.

On September 29th, we attacked the Hindenburg line between Cambrai and St. Quentin, in conjunction with the 10th Division, which came from New York. We met with heavy resistance from the start, but Lieutenant Potter's tank went steadily ahead for about one hour and a half. It did fine work in clearing the machine gun nests and the fire from your son's gun nest remained for most of this execution. He was very calm all the time and handled his gun in an admirable manner.

It was just after the tank crossed one of the trenches, that it was struck by a shell from an enemy field piece. It was very close to your son at the moment, and he was in the act of firing. The shell penetrated the tank and exploded in our midst. It wounded or killed every one in the tank. Five of the crew died practically instantly. Your son was one of these. He had not yet got a single Bible out of his pocket, but although I examined those who were left in the tank, he was lifeless, and I made a search a moment or two after the explosion.

He was buried with the others of the crew, near the little French town of Ronssoy.

I sympathize with you in your loss, but it is at least a comfort for you to know that he died bravely in an attack that broke the last hold of the Germans on the Hindenburg line. He was one of the best men in the company and both his officers and his comrades deeply regret his death.

Very sincerely,

W. M. ROSBOROUGH,
1st Lt. U. S. T. C. 301st Bn.

Mr. Dear Mr. Calico:—
Lieut. Rosborough has written you full details of your son's death, for he was with him at the time. Permit me to add my heartfelt sympathy, as well as that of all the officers and men of the company.

Corporal Calico was liked and respected by both his officers and fellow soldiers for his reliability and clean manliness—and he was a distinct loss to the organization.

Holding him as I know he would have wished it, in battle well behind the enemy-lines. When we found him he was still by the gun he had used so gallantly with a small Testament clasped in his hands.

A few personal belongings have been
